The IQAC of Loyola College of Education has organised for a National Webinar on the topic “Benchmarks of Research” on 15th May, 2020 between 11 a.m till 12 noon. From all over India many faculty members and research scholars from various disciplines came forward to register. But the registration was restricted to only 1000 participants. This webinar was arranged with Zoom meeting application. Four WhatsApp groups were created to accommodate all the participants to give necessary instructions. All the participants were given link to attend the meeting through their registered mail id. Participants were sent another link to submit their feedback by which they were provided with an auto generated e-certificate. The analysis of feedback says 82.1% of participants were highly satisfied and 17.9% of participants were satisfied with the theme of the Webinar. Also 69.8% of participants were highly satisfied and 30.2% of participants were satisfied with the areas covered in the Webinar. Moreover, 75.8% of participants were highly satisfied and 24.2% of participants were satisfied with the presentation of the resource person. Overall many participants have given a feedback saying that it was an edifying experience with good take away messages to become productive researchers and publish in quality journals. On request of the participants the power point presentation of the resource person is sent to all the participants for their future reference. The entire Webinar session is recorded and it will be uploaded in the Website of Loyola College of Education and also in You Tube for public reference. On the whole this National Webinar has added another feather in the crown of Loyola College of Education with a resounding success.
